

TOP FIVE: ARTISTS TO

SYD MOEN

Famed for her fantastical landscape photos—usually morphed into floating spherical forms—Moen takes on a new project this year at the silos near Winter Street Studios that will feature her first-ever videography. sydmoen.com

2

BEN WOITENA

In addition to exhibitions in Abilene, Midland and San Angelo, this Houston artist will unveil a new large-scale, abstract geometric sculpture at Downtown's Heritage Plaza. The curtain drops on Jan. 28 at noon. benwoitenasculptor.com

3

KARIN BROKER

The Rice art professor moves into a 6,000-square-foot studio/gallery/living space in Garden Oaks this year. Her gothic drawings are also featured in two books hitting shelves this spring, one of which is published in the U.K. karinbroker.com

4

FARIBA ABEDI

This geometric abstractionist—think kaleidoscopes—has a reception for a new videography installation at Spring Street Studios on Feb. 5 at 6PM. She also displays this year at Dallas' MADI Museum & Gallery. faribaabedin.com

5

PAUL FLEMING

Puffer-Sweiven has commissioned an installation by Fleming for its extensive corporate collection. Additionally, the artist—known for covering walls with dots of color—has a show at the Barbara Davis gallery in the fall. barbaradavisgallery.com

